

A Blonde In Buff Backfield?

West Texas State University may soon be required to field a girls' football team for intercollegiate competition if they field any at all.

This is borne out by a Health Education and Welfare release quoted Wednesday by WTSU

Financial Vice President Virgil Henson.

This will apply to all institutions of higher learning receiving federal funds.

Henson said this is not something in the mill for the coming season but could come to pass in future seasons.

Women's liberation groups espousing the movement point out that 50,000 men students in the U.S. receive athletic scholarships annually while less than 50 women in the country receive like treatment.

The release said sports is the most discriminatory area in American education today.

New regulations now ready for the signature of HEW Secretary Casper Weinberger will bring this to an end and well may ring down the curtain on most intercollegiate athletics.

The new regulations are based on Title 9, Education Amendments Act of 1972.

The question of girls' opportunities is no longer moot, says the release. It declares that Title 9 prohibits discrimination by sex in any program at any institution participating in federal funds.

Separate but unequal policies in girls' athletics is due to end soon.

The final draft of Title 9 regulations soon to go to the secretary stress that schools may operate separate teams for women and men provided opportunity to participate is the same.

Implied is a restriction against accentuating a one-sex sport in any season, Henson noted.

Knife Cuts Feet Off Annex Plan

With their eyes set on an absolute ceiling price of $300,000, county commissioners Monday lopped about 2000 square feet off a proposed 12,000 square foot annex for the courthouse to be built in South Amarillo.

Commissioners told Architect Art Vaughan they will spend only a maximum of $300,000 to construct the building including construction costs, architectural fees and other related fees.

A misunderstanding had apparently developed between commissioners and Vaughan over the probable cost of the building and Vaughan was laboring under the impression the county would pay as much as $400,000 for the construction of the building.

Vaughan presented another set of preliminary plans for the annex building and commissioners spent more than an hour Monday squeezing the various (See ANNEX, Page 5)

A petition now circulating in Canyon to call a halt to construction plans for a new city hall complex is probably not legal, City Attorney Elton Cox said this week.

Cox indicated he will advise city commissioners that the petition does not meet the criteria set out in Canyon's city charter for an initiative petition. He was also critical of the petition effort per se.

Petitioners, headed by Mrs. Mary Parker, local business-woman, have said their petition is an initiative allowed under section 1401 of the city charter. The petitions call for city commissioners to pass a resolution halting construction plans for the $1.1 million city hall building. If they do not pass the resolution, the petitions ask that an election be held for the electors to vote on whether or not they want the city hall complex built.

"Section 1401 is in the charter for the express purpose of permitting a percentage of the electors to suggest or propose some law in the form of an ordinance or resolution to be passed by the commission," Cox said. "In my opinion, the power of initiative is not now and was never intended to be used by the electors for the purpose of demanding elected officials to do or not to do something."

Cox said the petition effort "is not really an initiative."

"What they (petitioners) need to do is voice their opinion to the commission," he said. "The purpose of initiative is to propose some law. If they wanted to stop construction they'd have to get a writ of mandamus."

Cox said the intent and form of the petition calling (See COX, Page 5)

Police Vow Tough Stance On Dogs

Armed with new equipment, city police are beginning a crackdown on animals loosed by their owners to run wild on city streets.

City officials said this week they are facing the fact that several Canyon pet owners refuse to follow a city ordinance concerning fencing of dogs and cats with new equipment which has already increased the pickup rate of loose animals.

Four traps, traps which will not injure captured animals, have been purchased by the city and put into use in neighborhoods with dog and cat problems, according to Tommy Sanford, city policeman and animal control officer.

Sanford said the city purchased two traps just after the first of the year and already the rate of animals caught has almost doubled.

Without the aid of the traps, officers caught about 32 animals who were running wild in the streets during January 1973. With two traps, Sanford caught 66 animals during January 1974. He expects to catch even more with four traps in operation.

City Manager George Louder, Police Lt. Tom Rolan and Sanford agree that the stray animal problem in Canyon is traceable to a relative handful of recalcitrant animal owners who refuse to abide by the city laws.

"We're not dealing with stray animals but with people's pets," Louder said. "It's a failure of pet owners to keep their dogs and cats up."

A city ordinance makes it unlawful for the owner of any dog or cat to allow the animals to be unleashed on any unenclosed property. Louder said the ordinance requires that dogs and cats be kept either chained in a yard or within a fenced yard. Penalty for failure to follow the ordinance is a fine of from $1 to $200.

Rolan said seventeen animal owners paid fines during January.

And, he said, many animal owners are repeat offenders, even though the fine schedule is fixed to increase for each successive (See POLICE, Page 5) made Monday during a special assembly at CHS to honor the Girl Eagles for their win over Conroe for the state crown.

Mayor And Commissioners Label Petitioners' Statements Untrue

Labelling as false many statements being made by a group of Canyon citizens who are petitioning the city to halt plans to build a new city hall complex, city commissioners went on the offensive this week to explain their reasons for constructing the edifice.

The four commissioners and Mayor Manly Bryan labelled as patently untrue several statements and alleged facts about the city's fiscal ability to construct the building without raising taxes.

They also reiterated their absolute intent not to raise taxes through the building program. Mayor Bryan said the commission is concerned that those persons who are circulating petitions to call a halt to construction plans are misinforming citizens to get them to sign the petitions.

"The people who are pushing the petitions have not been to any of us to get the facts and the people should know it," Bryan said.

Willis Harrison voiced the same opinion. "If they have the full facts, I'm in favor of them presenting their petitions," he said. "But, if they don't have the facts I think they're wrong."

Dr. J. Pat Stephens agreed. "Many people make up their minds about something and interpret what information they have to suit their ends," he said. "That's a natural human failing."

H. R. Fulton Jr. and Jim Christopher also agreed that the facts should be made known and dispersed so that if people want to sign the petitions they will know exactly what they're signing.

Commissioners released a prepared statement last week outlining some of the "false" statements which have been made about the fiscal responsibility of building the complex. The statement reads, in part:

"As your city commission we are personally (issuing this statement) in response to recent statements concerning the construction of the new proposed civic complex. In no way is this action being taken to limit full participation of any citizen and our concern is directed to certain irresponsible and totally unfounded statements being made by certain individuals who have not been concerned enough to gather the real facts."

Commissioners said one statement being made by persons opposing the building of the complex is that "the water wells are all but dry and the city will not be able to supply this summer's needs."

In answer, commissioners stated: "The water table for all (See MAYOR, Page 5)

Students Vow Action If Roundball Not Returned

A handful of West Texas State University student senators indicated Monday they will picket with signs if WTSU officials do not go along with their idea to stage next year's basketball games in Canyon rather than in Amarillo.

Jon Lair, student senator from Canyon, who led a drive before the student senate Monday afternoon to have the games moved, indicated in an interview that extra-governmental measures will be taken if the senate's action is ignored.

Lair, who heads the senate Basketball Supporters Committee, asked senators during regular session Monday to pass a resolution calling for at least 75 per cent of the home basketball games to be played in the WTSU Fieldhouse on campus.

Bulletin

The News learned Wednesday that Herma Miller of Austin has been selected to succeed Virgil Henson as financial vice president at West Texas State University. Miller is currently assistant director of the Legislative Budget Board in Austin.

University President Lloyd I. Watkins declined to confirm that Miller will be named financial vice president when university regents meet on the campus March 16 for a regular meeting.

Miller's appointment will be contingent on board action.

After brief discussion, Senators tabled the resolution telling Lair to come up with more facts to justify his committee's position.

Lair and a committee of five were appointed by the senate two weeks ago to look into the basketball situation. Currently, the WTSU basketball team plays all its home games in the Amarillo civic center.

Lair told the News that if the student senate passes the resolution, the student action meets (See STUDENTS, Page 5)

Dr. Paul Reynolds, left, head of a team from the Southern Association of Colleges and Universities, and Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins look over a part of the information Dr. Reynolds' team examined this week in their accreditation visit to the West Texas State University campus. The team, which left the area Wednesday, complimented the university on its teaching faculty, according to Dr. Watkins.

City's Population Passes Nine Thousand Figure

Canyon's population is not yet at the 10,000 mark, as earlier anticipated, but the city's growth rate is steady and well over the 9000 level.

City Manager George Louder said the Population Technical Committee consisting of representatives of area governments and businesses, has given a semi-official nod to the estimate that the city's population now stands at 9382.

Of that total, 2000 persons are students living on the West Texas State University campus in dormitories.

Louder stressed that the figures are only estimates but indicated the signs which visitors approach when they enter the city may be changed to reflect the new population.

The 1970 census revealed a city population of 8333.

Growth of more than 1000 in four years would indicate a growth rate of 3.14 per cent, just below Amarillo's growth rate of 3.18 per cent.

Louder said Amarillo's population is estimated at 138,360.

Estimates for Canyon's population were not easy to come by, Louder said. He said there has been no real dwelling count since the 1970 census so estimations were made on a per cent of growth applied to that dwelling count.

Nevertheless, he said the estimate of Canyon's population "is supported by most of the data."

Estimated population of the two-county area is 157,745, he said, well up from the 1970 census count of 144,396.

The population estimates are made annually by the committee and next year the committee must project probable populations for the two cities for 1980 and 1990 as well as for 1975.

Louder said the estimates are necessary because of the many agencies which seek estimated population figures for funding and for other programs.

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

I naturally feel some sympathy with the student movement to bring basketball back to the West Texas State University campus. I'd like to see all the games played in Canyon, if possible.

This brings to mind a statement attributed to Director of Student Activities Center Frank Castleberry in which he is quoted as having said it would be necessary to fill the Civic Center for the school just to break even.

I am a sports fan but I seriously doubt that the taxpayer is going to stand still much longer for the losses incurred by state supported schools in the field of intercollegiate athletics.

Intercollegiate athletics on a moderate scale doesn't stand a chance in the field of entertainment spectacles being staged across the country today.

People who like football can see at least one or two nationally rated college teams on television Saturday afternoon and evening.

They can see two great pro games on Sunday afternoon and another Monday night. If they happen to have a son playing on the local high school team they probably saw him Friday night.

You'll have to admit that six games in one weekend is a lot of football.

Joe Kerbel came here with a mandate to win and produce what he termed "big time" football on the WT campus. Joe produced spectacular teams but he drew players from all over the nation to do it. He was the winningest coach in the history of football at WTSU but he never filled the WT stadium.

He gave West Texas State national publicity by producing players who have become near superstars in pro football. He finally was dismissed for what board Chairman Cloyce Box termed "lack of interest" in football here. Football was going in the hole in spite of good showings on the scoreboard.

Gene Mayfield came to his alma mater as head football coach and athletic director with a mandate to recruit local boys. Fans in Amarillo said they could get support for the team if more Panhandle boys were the maroon livery.

Dutifully, Mayfield has tried to follow that mandate. I won't go into the painful debacle of the 1973 football season.

Financial figures on the season are not yet available. I'm glad they're not. I'm depressed enough with this column already.

Suffice to say that playing Panhandle boys didn't get any more support for Gene Mayfield than it got for Clark Jarnigan who posted similar win-loss records while head coach here.

In short, we may have to settle for no intercollegiate program at all or one much less ambitious in the not too distant future. It is not what I personally would like to see but it may come to pass.

Bufs Face Wichita State, Tulsa

West Texas State University's Buffaloes, with their eyes set on advancement, close their home basketball season with a pair of key Missouri Valley Conference games this week.

The Buffaloes, with a 4-6 conference record, are in sixth place in the nine-team league. They play third place Wichita State at 7:30 p.m. Thursday night in Amarillo's Civic Center Coliseum and host fourth place Tulsa Saturday night.

Wichita State will bring a 6-5 conference mark into Thursday's contest and Tulsa, which is open Thursday, will have a 6-6 MVC standard for Saturday's contest.

Two Scouts Take Eagle

Two Canyon Boy Scouts received their Eagle Scout award during ceremonies Monday night at First Christian Church here.

Drew Williams, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Williams of 400 4th Ave., and Bob Lindsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lindsey of Canyon, were presented Scouting's highest rank during a court of honor for Troop 66.

Scoutmaster Richard Fulton read the citation for the boys and Charles Peckinpaugh, former scoutmaster, gave a charge of responsibility to the recipients.

Chemistry Profs Get $44,000 In Grants

Two chemistry professors have been given research extension grants totaling $44,000 at West Texas State University.

Dr. Gene O. Carlisle and Dr. James D. Woodyard, both assistant professors of the chemistry department, received a two-year grant of $24,000 (each) from the Robert A. Welch Foundation of Houston.

According to Dr. Carlisle, the money will be used partly to support several graduate and undergraduate chemistry majors in their studies, partially to pay miscellaneous bills to the university that the research incurs and partially to fund "my research of certain metallic compounds," the doctor explained.

In his research proposal, "Magnetic Properties of Polymetallic Transition Metal Complexes," an understanding of the chemical and physical properties of compounds depends upon a knowledge of how the atoms are bonded to one another, Dr. Carlisle said. Polymetallic transition metal complexes are compounds possessing two or more metallic centers.

"In some cases, the metallic centers may interact or bond to each other by coupling of their unpaired electrons. This investigation is a fundamental study of the mechanisms by which such metallic centers may couple."

"Experimental data will be obtained by determining the magnetic properties for these complexes over a wide range of temperature, and the results yield a better understanding of metal-metal bonding," Dr. Carlisle explained.

Dr. Woodyard's grant will be used much in the same way as Dr. Carlisle's extension. His research proposal, "Synthesis and Reactions of Small Ring Compounds," is a study involving the preparation of several new small ring compounds for the purpose of accumulating sufficient data so that definite rules may be formulated which will allow rapid and unambiguous structural assignments to be made for these and other related compounds.

"This will be accomplished," Dr. Woodyard explained, "by studying certain chemical properties of these new compounds, and relating the information thus obtained to data available in the chemical literature. In addition, the consequences of several structural parameters upon the stability of these compounds will be investigated," Dr. Woodyard added.

Dr. Woodyard said the grants awarded by the Welch Foundation are used only for basic research and not for applied research.

According to Dr. Carlisle, there is at present no practical application for the studies, only basic research (for possible future application).

"The data derived from this research," Dr. Woodyard said, "is compiled and published in national journals for the use of any chemistry student in the country."

The chemistry department is "currently spending $4,500 per month from outside agencies" on research, Dr. Carlisle said.

The chemistry professors both were supported partially through graduate school by Welch Foundation fellowships.

Lenten Season Begins

By REBA RAEF

YESTERDAY, ASH WEDNESDAY, was the beginning of the Lenten season. Lent is a time of sacrifice and penance, in preparation for Easter, the most important and celebrated event in the church year. Lenten devotions at St. Mary's in Umbarger will be Mass, each Wednesday evening and the Stations of the Cross, each Friday evening. If you would like to attend our Lenten services, you are most welcome.

AS A PRE-LENTEN celebration, the Knights of Columbus Council No. 2808 sponsored a Shrove Tuesday pancake and sausage supper. The evening began with Mass at 7:00 p.m., followed by the supper in the parish hall. After the meal, a card party was held in the Columbus Club Hall.

AT THE MEETING of the Farm Bureau, held last week, E.A. Stocker was elected chairman. He replaces Joe Wieck, whose term had expired. Tony Hollenstein was re-elected to serve as secretary. Tom Payne is the other member from Umbarger, who represents Umbarger on the Randall County board.

SEVERAL UMBARGER RESIDENTS have returned from a trip to Mexico City. They visited the Metropolitan Cathedral, the Shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe, the Pyramids and the Lava Gardens. They toured Mexico City, visiting the wealthy part as well as the poorer part. They did not see any dogs or any other kinds of pets. They also noticed the absence of long hair on the men in that part of the world. There were about 170 people making the trip, which was sponsored by The Farmland Industries. Those who made the trip from Umbarger were Richard and Lillian Friemel, Elroy and Roberta Artho and Henry Skypala.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MAX and Rosie Hoffman, who have another new great-grandson, Jeremy Christopher Brooks. His parents are Gary and Wanda Brooks, who live in Atlantic City, Florida. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gary Brooks, Sr., who live in Idaho and Mr. and Mrs. Charley Hymer, who live in Amarillo. Mrs. Joe Rossi, from Tulia, is a great-grandmother.

MRS. W. P. Jansen is recuperating at her home in Umbarger after a stay in Neblett Memorial Hospital.

DON'T FORGET TO go see the musical, "No, No, Nanette," being staged by the Canyon High School. These students have worked hard on this production, and we're sure it will be good entertainment, so let's all go see what these kids can do.

DON'T FORGET OUR volleyball tournament, to be played on March 7th, 8th and 9th, in the community building. We will have lunch, so come on and eat with us and enjoy some good volleyball games.

functions in the building into smaller spaces.

Hardest hit by the commission-welded paring knife was a courtroom area for Justice of the Peace W.W. Hancock.

Minor paring was also done in other areas including areas for the sheriff's department.

In other business Monday, commissioners discussed hiring of a draftsman for the office of Mrs. Audrey Bruce, tax assessor-collector.

Mrs. Bruce sought a draftsman to keep the county's maps for tax purposes current.

She was instructed to seek to purchase large maps from the City of Amarillo and also to eye the possibility of hiring a draftsman on a part-time basis.

Commissioners set the price for copies of the newly-published Randall County Road Policies at $5 each. The policies were formulated by an Amarillo civil engineer and approved by commissioners.

Mayor. . .

underground supplies of water in the Panhandle area are declining but the most recent projections indicate that our system is capable of adequately and economically providing the necessary supplies for at least 20 years.

Another statement circulating along with the petitions is that "the city commission is raiding the water fund for money to pay for the civic complex."

Commissioners answer: "Approximately $610,000 of the fund surpluses from varying sources will be used to help finance the complex. This surplus has accrued since the late 1950s. This city commission has repeatedly questioned the size of this cash surplus. The surplus does not support any of the operating functions of any fund and past commissions and administrations have noted the need to utilize these funds for the benefit of the entire community. We wish to assure you that this action in no way endangers the operations of these funds. The general fund of the City of Canyon will never have a surplus of less than $100,000. This surplus exceeds amounts which were available in recent years. The water and sewer fund will never have a surplus balance of less than $200,000."

Cox. . .

for the commission to pass the resolution or submit it to voters do not follow the standard outlines for an initiative effort.

"Their resolution doesn't read like an ordinance or a resolution," he said. "What they have is a request. It's really a statement of opinion or a request. I do not find a petition for a resolution there at all."

Cox said he feels the petition effort "is just a matter of a few people wanting to put before the citizens of Canyon the question of whether or not a new city complex should be built."

But, he said, he doesn't believe the petition effort was really necessary.

"I doubt that it is something which should be presented to city commissioners under the authority of section 1401," he said.

Cox defended city commissioners in their right to make decisions affecting all local citizens.

"You elect commissioners and they have to make the decisions," he said. "They have the interest of all the people, they're familiar with the needs of the city and they were elected for the purpose of operating the city just like the directors of a company are elected to operate a corporation."

"If you don't think they're doing a good job, run for the office yourself or support some other candidate rather than try to tell them how to operate the city by the power of initiative."

Price Aide Due Here On March 1

A representative of Congressman Bob Price will be in Canyon March 8 at two locations to talk with local residents about problems or interests in the federal government.

Gene Hanks, Price's district assistant, will be at the activities

Another statement commissioners fear petitioners are using to frighten people into signing their petitions is that "there is need to provide a larger water fund to forestall a water bond issue in the near future." In fact, that particular statement is included as part of the petition now being circulated.

Commissioners answer: "The surplus of $200,000 is above any requirement needed to meet operating and capital outlay needs for at least the next 10 years. The needs of the water and sewer system are well programmed and can be met without a water bond issue. The surplus will naturally increase as economic requirements would dictate. The surplus is to be maintained to provide certain specific protections, the first being that this money is more than adequate to purchase the largest known tract of water rights should it become available. It provides for replacement of exposed capital improvements subject to natural disaster and provides for an emergency operating fund for operations for at least one year."

Another statement circulating with the petitions is that "the project will require the city of Canyon to go into debt by more than a million dollars."

Commissioners counter: "The last cost estimate for the total project was $1,603,900. The commission has repeatedly stated that the building to provide water administration, general administration, library, police and fire facilities would receive first priority and the estimated cost of this facility is $1,096,000. The entire project can be completed as finances and need demand. The replacement of the existing community center is a decision which can be made at any time in the future. The following is an estimated projected cost of the facility planned for immediate construction and also a projection of the financial requirements:

$1,096,000 — building cost
55,000 — architect fees
16,000 — parking lots etc.
81,725 — contingency of 7%

$1,249,225 — projected cost

A total of $872,025 is available during construction with $500,000 from water and sewer surplus and $261,000 from revenue sharing.

That means, according to commissioners, that $377,200 would require debt financing.

"The commission has long planned this project to coincide with the retirement of general obligation debt incurred in 1957. The completion of this requirement will permit approximately $30,000 to be utilized toward the retirement of the remaining portion left after revenue sharing," commissioners said.

Wild Game Dinner Slated

Rattlesnake, venison, duck, turkey and pheasant are among the entrees for a wild game dinner slated Saturday in the Alpha Tau Omega Lodge east of Canyon.

The event, scheduled for 7 p.m., is sponsored by the newly-created West Texas State University Society of Naturalists.

Game was donated to the organization by members and interested persons, a spokesman said.

Tickets, priced at $3 for adults, $1.50 for children under 12 and 75 cents for children under six. Tickets may be obtained by contacting the WTSU biology department.

Sanford said many pet owners are second and third offenders. "They just don't care," he said. "I picked up one dog twice in one week."

Sanford said he feels the four dog traps will provide the kind of protection needed. He said he places the traps in locations where there are numbers of complaints.

"We encourage people to give us their complaints," Louder said. "Don't hesitate to call us. A lot of people have dog problems when they shouldn't."

He said any complaint about loose animals is handled on an anonymous basis.

Sanford stressed that any person bitten by a dog should contact police immediately so the animal can be caught and examined for rabies.

He said only one person has been bitten recently in the city.

In addition to the four dog traps set out daily, Sanford also sets out six cat traps.

Dr. Joe Markham, local veterinarian, warned that loose animals can pose a particular problem during the spring and summer months but that the problem still exists during the winter months.

That problem is rabies and Markham said rabies incidence is not related to the temperature of the weather, but rather to the availability of the disease.

But he said, the number of animals seems to increase during the warm spring months adding to the problem.

A rabies clinic for local animal owners will be held in early May.

Southwestern Folklore Focus Of New Class

By ANN MELIN

Down by the river
Down by the sea
Johnny broke a bottle
And blamed it on me
Popular Jump-Rope Rhyme

It's rather like taking a course to discover what you already know about folkloric tradition, Dr. John Godfrey says of a new continuing education class in Southwestern folklore to begin today at West Texas State University.

When the WTSU English professor offered a similar course in Borger, he said some of his students claimed to know nothing of folklore tradition.

What they didn't in fact know, he said, was what constituted folklore. Once the principals are discovered, he adds, just about anyone has his own repository of folk expressions, songs, stories and jokes to contribute to a study.

And that's why the English professor says he "doesn't exactly know what we're going to be doing" in the Southwestern folklore class, slated to begin at 7 p.m. today in room 422 of the University Complex South. The class will meet each Tuesday through May 2. Fee is $10, payable at the first evening session.

Little-known things about the very familiar seem to intrigue Dr. Godfrey, who received a research grant several years ago at WTSU to delve into the folklore behind the epic, "Beowulf."

Skip rope rhymes, for instance, have captured the English scholars' imagination. He says the school yard ditties seem to be essentially the same with only minor variations in different locales as well as in generations of little girls. "Cinderella dressed in yellow" (remember that one?) sometimes goes upstairs, sometimes downstairs to kiss her fella, and it really doesn't alter the meaning of the rhyme," he says.

Fairy tales also seem to captivate Dr. Godfrey. How they are transmitted around the globe and the various forms they assume in different countries is a source of continuing fascination to folklorists, he says.

A variation of the fairy tale, "Cap O' Rushes," upon which Shakespeare's "King Lear" was based, was recently told with only minor differences by an illiterate Mexican-American with cultural groundings far different from the bard of Stratford-on-Avon.

And Aggie jokes, he adds, have exactly the same punch lines in the Eastern United States, only the butt of their humor is directed at persons of Polish extraction instead of the stereotyped clodhopper of the agricultural school.

Who invents the Aggie jokes, the fairy tales, the skip rope rhymes, is a source of continuing mystery that seems to make the study of folklore so intriguing, he adds.

Nursery rhymes, Dr. Godfrey says, although considered innocent enough to be linked by name to the children's playground, often originated in bitter criticism of famous people. "Georgie Porgie," he says, "is believed to have been aimed at one of the Hanoverian Georges who ruled England in the 18th Century."

"Who knows the young lady who actually inspired the tune, 'Barbara (Barbary) Allen'?" he asks. A conjecture about the damsel would put her chronologically at least in the 13th century, he said.

Some popularly-used expressions find their origins in folk ballads of which the utterers of the saying usually know nothing about, Dr. Godfrey adds. The expression, "Katie - bar - the - door," for instance, originated in a ballad in which a wife is bidden by her illicit lover to lock her cuckolded husband out of the house.

A Chaucer scholar whose main academic interest has been in Old English literature, Dr. Godfrey sees archetypes and motifs in current cinema and literature that seem to harken back to the oldest recorded tales in human history.

"The pattern of the ideal hero, the ideal woman, mother and grandmother recurs throughout history," he says. But nowadays, he says, those archetypes seem to be changing.

"The archetypal grandmother of today, isn't the same for this generation as it was for mine," he says. Replacing the white-headed old lady taking sugar cookies out of the oven seems to be the "swinging old lady" type, he says.

"And the archetypal mother is changing, too. Who knows who she is? As the commercial goes, you can't tell by her hands, whether she's the mother or the daughter."

Coming as close to being an archetypal hero in today's society is Gunsmoke's terse-talking, fast-drawing Matt Dillon, he says. That the heroic tradition still lives was recently proved when letters, outcries and even a write-up in Time ensued after Marshall Dillon, suffering from a temporary attack of amnesia, went to bed with a woman, Dr. Godfrey said. The unwed archetypal hero doesn't do that sort of thing, Godfrey said.

The cowboy chivalry displayed toward women in modern westerns also harkens back to the reverential treatment of womanhood through the ages. Some of it stems from medieval idealization of the Virgin Mary, but the placing of women on pedestals goes back even further, Dr. Godfrey says.

Although his course will have no tests, no grades and will carry no credit, Dr. Godfrey is requesting that enrolling students purchase J. Frank Dobie's "Life and Literature of the Southwest," a valuable reference book to the folkloric tradition of this region.

So firmly imbedded within human beings is the folkloric tradition that writers tend to use it in their work unconsciously. The mysterious transmission of folklore has even led psychologists of the Jungian school to posit a collective unconscious through which the cultural heritage of a race is transmitted without the bearer being cognizant of the inexorable process.

Once aware that seemingly nonsensical jump rope chants about princes and paupers are part of an important human tradition, people can begin to consciously explore, collect and ultimately preserve their native folklore, Dr. Godfrey says.

with no action from university administrators, "you can see us all walking on campus with posters."

He indicated he expects the administration to react unfavorably to the proposal.

Lair said his committee's resolution amounts to "an attack on Amarillo."

A written statement presented to student senators during their session reads in part:

"We have entered the Amarillo market and they have proven to be ineffective supporters for their community athletic programs as well as those of WTSU. We feel that our University and its students deserve more, much more. . .

"If our program exists for the benefit of Amarillo residents and other economic interest of that city, then our proposal is to tally invalid and we apologize for burdening you with this matter. If the program exists for the students of our university, incidentally, the people who pay for the program, then our arguments are not just fragmented arguments, but rather demands."

Several senators questioned whether Missouri Valley Conference rules allow WTSU to play their games in other than the Amarillo civic center.

Lair told senators that the university has no contract with the MVC as to seating capacities or where games will be played.

Lair pointed to low attendance figures in Amarillo as prime reason for the proposed change.

Average attendance for non-conference home games has been 2070 this year, he said. Average attendance for MVC games this year has been 2979.

Lair said the civic center will seat 4933 persons while the WTSU Fieldhouse will seat 3088 persons.

He said most of those students who hold activities cards for such events live in the Canyon area rather than the Amarillo area. In addition of 760 season ticket holders only 390 live in Amarillo.

Frank Castleberry, director of the WTSU activities center, told senators that the WTSU Fieldhouse would be inadequate if WTSU fielded a winning team. He told them to direct their energies toward construction of a new fieldhouse on the local campus.

By TROYCE MULHERIN
GLAD - TO - BE - BACK - GREETINGS:

THERE ARE BEAUTIFUL people, then there are even more beautiful people. There are friends, then there are good friends. Fortunate, we are, to be so blessed as to know at least two people who deserve special rating in anybody's book. Namely — Pauline and Ernestine! It was quite a treat to loll around enjoying their appearances in this space for the last two weeks. These lovelies "done good." Our heartfelt appreciation to each of you.

GUESS WHAT! YOU lucky readers are going to be spared the details of my little visit to the hospital — my gift to you! Will say, tho, that first person experience is certainly educational — if not overly enjoyable. The lovely, lovely flowers, cards, calls, etc. certainly helped the ol' morale — mucho gracious.

MONDAY NIGHT IS PTA night. Gene Howe's third graders will present a timely patriotic program titled, "America Sings." Good show! Margie Phillips assists the youngsters with their music and dancing. Our third grade teachers, Jerrie Langen, Nynvia Mills and Geraldine Woodward, have joined forces to flange up the rest of the production. Costuming is by the youngsters' parents.

WINNING PROJECTS IN the Science Fair will be on display Monday night, kicking off the annual Texas Public School Week observance at Gene Howe. That's this Monday, March 4, at 7:00. See ya there. Not incidentally, make plans to visit your school sometime during Texas Public School Week.

THE PORTABLES ARE in at Gene Howe. Hopefully, the little necessities of life, such as heating and lighting, etc., will soon be finished. Then, Charles Dowell and his fifth graders will set up residency in one of the buildings, and the P.E. Department will be utilizing the other building.

DEEPEST SYMPATHIES ARE extended to Brenda Lawless in the loss of her brother, versity, is chapter advisor for the fraternity and working with Bruce Wyre, a student member of ATO, to coordinate the efforts of the two organizations.

Dr. Grillo told the Canyon News that the purpose of the drive is to collect all kinds of cans and bottles in the Canyon environment. Aluminum cans will be recycled and the money received for the cans will be used to support the scout pack. The clean-up drive will end March 26. The scouts have already been working for about a month on the project.

The scouts will take any cans collected by residents of Canyon in the effort.

One collection point for the cans has been established, and another is in the planning stages. Anyone collecting cans may take them to the Alpha Tau Omega Lodge on Hick Road. Plans are being studied to use space made available by Richard Pruitt, the manager of the Village Drive Inn.

Dr. Grillo said the main purpose of the collection will be to remove "the glitter from the side of the road."

Scout Pack Collects Cans In Clean-Up Drive

Members of Cub Scout Pack 131 are conducting a drive to collect aluminum cans from all over Canyon, according to packmaster Dr. John Grillo, assistant professor for the Computer Information Systems at West

Teacher's Exam Deadline Looming

Less than two weeks remain for prospective teachers to register for the National Teacher Examinations at West Texas State University on April 6, 1974. Those interested should contact the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, Dr. Kenneth Waugh, Director of Testing and Counseling Center, said.

"Bulletins of Information" describing registration procedures and containing Registration Forms may be obtained from Dr. Kenneth Waugh, Testing and Counseling Center, or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Box 911, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

At the one-day test session a candidate may take the Common Examinations, which include tests in Professional Education and General Education. Also available will be one of the twenty-eight Area Examinations which are designed to evaluate his understanding of the subject matter and methods applicable to the area he may be assigned to teach.

Each candidate will receive an Admission Ticket advising him of the exact location of the center to which he should report, Dr. Waugh noted. Candidates for the Common Examinations will report at 8:30 a.m. on April 6, and should finish at approximately 12:30 p.m., he said. Candidates for the Area Examinations will report at 1:30 p.m. and should finish at approximately 4:15 p.m., according to the time schedule for these examinations which has been set up by Educational Testing Service.

Incumbents File For Hospital Board

Three incumbents have filed for re-election to the board of the South Randall County Hospital District.

Raymond Batenhorst, Floyd Tomlinson and Mrs. Nolon Henson have turned in the necessary petitions to seek re-election on April 6.

Final filing deadline for candidates is March 6.

Absentee voting has begun for the election at Neblett Memorial Hospital. Absentee balloting ends four days before the April 6 balloting.

Potential candidates may file for a place on the ballot by filing a petition with either Ray Grimes, hospital administrator, or Mrs. Henson, board secretary.

Dr. Louis Finney is a physician who says he doesn't like to be characterized as a "money-grubbing right-wing" doctor and places himself in what he terms "the more practical wing" of the American Medical Association.

Finney, a Democratic candidate for U.S. Congress from this district, told The News in a recent interview he believes the days are approaching when some sort of partnership between government and the medical profession will come about to provide optimum health care at "appropriate costs."

Finney, who says he hopes to be able to take time from a busy neurosurgery practice in Amarillo to hit the campaign trail before the May primary elections, said he believes he can do more for the electorate of the district as congressman than he can in the operating room as one of Amarillo's few neurosurgeons.

"When you start believing you're indispensable, you're kidding yourself," Finney says with a smile, and notes that he hopes to find another neurologist to take his practice if elected.

"There's a great need for effective representation," he said. "I have reason to believe that our incumbent Congressman isn't giving the representation the people deserve. There has not been a strong Democratic candidate since he (Rep. Bob Price of Pampa) took office. I felt it imperative that someone come forth who would be willing to represent all the people and who may generate some enthusiasm that results in a successful campaign."

Finney, taking a broadside at the real estate people in this area, Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, WT president, said.

This is the first time that the prominent, 392-member realtors association has presented scholarship money, which was taken from their general funds. The Amarillo chapter achieved statewide notoriety recently when ABR member Frank Jeffers was elected president of the Texas Association of Realtors.

"The generosity of the ABR is an excellent example of the working partnership of the people of this region and West Texas State University," Watkins concluded.

Finney said he believes there is much fat in the military budget, but he believes a strong military is necessary to prevent any attack on this country. "I think we need to always spend a considerable amount of our budget on defense," he said. Finney believes the all-volunteer Army will weaken the country's defense posture by placing the military in the hands of the militaristic without the leavening of civilian soldiers.

Amarillo Realtors Donate $750

The Amarillo Board of Realtors presented recently $750 to West Texas State University real estate scholarship and general funds.

"We are trying to improve the quality of the people coming into real estate through increased opportunities for their educational development," Ralph Davis, 1974 ABR president, said.

Two $250 scholarships will be awarded from the donation, in addition to providing $250 for travel expenses for professors and/or students pertaining to real estate in the business school, Mr. Davis noted.

"I am delighted that the Amarillo Board of Realtors has made this scholarship available to deserving students who will be attending WT. The interest shown by the Board will be of assistance to us in our efforts to provide ample supply of highly trained professional people for

The Variety Ring Club met recently in the home of Mrs. E.K. Hines. Mrs. Levi Cole served as hostess for the meeting.

The contents for the guessing box were not guessed by any members.

After new business was disposed of, and readings presented, refreshments were served.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. George Barker, Mrs. Alice Black, Mrs. Nancy Boyce, Mrs. Earl Burtz, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. E.P. Harding, Mrs. J.P. Hammond, Mrs. Hines, Mrs. Mae Johnson, Mrs. Win Matsler, Mrs. Fred Marshall, Mrs. P.L. Pitt, Mrs. Ben Priddy, Mrs. Ann Weaver and Mrs. Leonard Winters.

The next meeting of the club is scheduled in the home of Mrs. Hines on March 2. Breakfast will be served to members at 9:30 a.m.

Finney Cites Effective Representative As Problem

Incumbent Price, said the district suffers a "leadership problem in the halls of Congress."

"To send less than an optimum candidate to Washington is throwing away your vote," he said. "It's a very sorry day when the system can't attract an optimum candidate."

Turning to some issues which he believes will present themselves during the upcoming months of campaigning, Finney said he believes there is much good in the medical system today, but he said he hopes a compromise can be reached between what various federal representatives are proposing and the free-enterprise system of today.

"I hope we can maintain the good in our operation and gradually eliminate the bad," he said.

Finney said he has no magic solution to the water shortage problem in the Panhandle of Texas, but said that the new thrust toward solving the nation's energy shortage might be a lever to get the rest of the nation interested in what a lack of water here would mean throughout the country.

"When you look at the number of jobs connected with the food production industry and the amount of grain products from this area, you realize how valuable this area is," he said.

Finney said representatives from the Texas area should work diligently to make any national energy legislation applicable to water "because water is just as much an irreplaceable source of power as the fossil fuels are."

The energy problem itself has no easy solution but Finney stops short of advocating what he terms "gunboat diplomacy."

He stresses that America must try to become self-sufficient in energy supplies not only for the sake of the way of life here but to keep American assets from continuously pouring into Middle Eastern countries.

Someone, he says, must be willing to make a decision on solving the fuel shortage and the Arab hold-up of oil exports.

But, Finney is disappointed with the trend in Washington for Congress and the President to relegate decision-making power to bureaucrats.

"Twenty years ago, I was a young man and I stood in awe of Congress," he said. "I don't think that way any more."

Finney said Congress has not maintained either its prestige or power and that "it too often seems that government functions on the basis of submitted bureaucratic budgets."

"Congress has abandoned its responsibility to the bureaucrats and is not responsible to the citizens at large."

On other issues, Finney said: "detente with Russia — Finney, who lived in Russia 4½ months several years ago, said he believes it would be a "calamity" if conflict developed openly between the U.S. and Russia. He said the Russian people themselves have a great deal of friendliness toward Americans.

"defense — Finney said he believes there is much fat in the military budget, but he believes a strong military is necessary to prevent any attack on this country. "I think we need to always spend a considerable amount of our budget on defense," he said. Finney believes the all-volunteer Army will weaken the country's defense posture by placing the military in the hands of the militaristic without the leavening of civilian soldiers.

Congratulations To Girl Eagles

By MARY NEAL HENRY
CONGRATULATIONS TO ALL YOU 1974 Girl Eagles on your State Basketball Championship. This is an honor not won in a few days or even weeks. It takes months of training, self discipline, positive thinking, coaching, practice, just plain old hard work and school spirit. Some today say that young people do not have the incentive to stay in training and the self discipline that teams once had. Maybe not all do. But those who do maintain that self discipline have discovered that it pays off. Sometimes the stamina of a team as well as their ability is a deciding factor. In any case, the Canyon girls have proved that they have what it takes. Congratulations!

new bed of hay in a pig house. When Camma Lou Tackitt discovered the fire, she knew there was not enough time to go for help and save the sow and litter of pigs. So she put out the fire by herself. Saved one of their best sows and the whole litter of baby pigs.

ROBIN FROST, NINE year old daughter of Jane and Bob Frost won the District 4-H Beef Cookoff in Tucumcari last week. Robin is the granddaughter of Mrs. Loretta Dorris and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Frost of Happy.

KEN HENRY BROUGHT two friends home for lunch on Thursday. . . Buster Haney and Bruce Eliot. The Clarendon Rodeo team competed in the Fort Stockton Rodeo last weekend.

BROTHER PAUL HEIL is in Wapato, Washington, conducting a revival this week. Jim Garrison of Texas Tech accompanied Brother Paul to be the Music and Youth Director of this revival. Remember them in your prayers.

BROTHER EVANS WILL be the pulpit guest at the First Baptist Church in Happy this Sunday.

O. M. (BUD) Cox, Jr., suffered a stroke at his home on Monday of last week and was taken to the Swisher County Hospital. There he passed away just after eight o'clock on Wednesday evening, February 20th. Services were held in the First United Methodist Church of Happy on Saturday morning and conducted by Rev. Roland Moore of Vigo Park and Rev. Weldon Tucker of Happy. Burial was in the Happy Cemetery by LaGrone Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Joe Bill Dempsey, Hoyle Shipman, Joyce Lane, Rayford Shipman, Bobby G. Odom, and Kirk Williams. Honorary pallbearers were Alden Mann, Carl Schulte, H.P. Bonds, J.E. Littlefield, Charles Wesley, Bob Ed Patching and Charles Evans.

BUD WAS THE first rural mail carrier that we had when we first married. (I was born and raised in town. Never lived in the country until I married). Mail time and visiting with Bud and Roberta was something to look forward to every morning. When you lived out in the middle of a two section patch and no one came down your road except to see you, you met the mail carriers every chance that you had. Then if I were really lonesome, I'd go on down to the neighbors, Gene and S.L. Robinson and ruin the rest of their morning. I often wonder why they just didn't put me to work or tell me to go home. Any way, rain or shine, the mail came. And then there was bubble gum for the children. Thoughtful things like that. Bud had recently been employed by Consumers Supply of Happy.

BUD IS SURVIVED by his wife, Roberta; one daughter, Ruth Alice Odom of Fort Bragg, Calif.; five brothers, Sherman, Tom and Frank of Happy, Keith of Tulia (although Keith just lives little more than two miles from us) and Horace "Chick" of Pecos; one sister, Annie Lemons of Happy; and two grandchildren, Mike and Connie. Mike Odom is a senior and hopes to return to Texas to attend WTSU next fall. Connie is a sophomore.

ESSIE BARNARD TOLD me at the family dinner at the Methodist Church that they had been to Temple to see Maxine and her family. Maxine's girls each have presented the Barnards with a great-grandchild, one GREAT-grandson and one GREAT-granddaughter. Essie says they'll be planning lots of trips to Temple.

THIS WAS THE first occasion that I'd had to meet Dan Self, Pat's (Cox) husband. Maybe that is good. Dan is with the Department of Public Safety. Dan and Pat didn't have their two daughters with them.

JIMMY AND WADE Grubb, Lida Rhea's boys, had grown so tall, that I didn't even recognize them.

MRS. ED WOMACK has been in Neblett Memorial Hospital.

MRS. DAISY BURSON was reported to be in Swisher County Hospital on Monday morning.

MRS. JO ETHEL Forbus is doing well in the Dimmitt Nursing Home. I dropped by to see her on Wednesday afternoon after attending a Budget Committee Meeting for CowBelles in Hereford. Dimmitt is right on the way home from Hereford if you head the right direction. Grandma's address is Mrs. Jo Ethel Forbus, South Hills Manor, Box 536, Dimmitt, Texas 79027. Grandma is in Hall D, Room 3.

CHARLIE POFF is there in the South Hills Manor also. He has the same address and he is in Hall F, Room 10.

JANIE AND JIM Johnson of Spearman were Happy visitors over the weekend. Clois and A.J. Greenfield are happy to have them close again.

THE BRONC FANNINGS visited the Tuffy Thompson family this week.

JIM TIREEY had a birthday party on Saturday. He was three years old. His cake had Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck and Pluto on it and they all moved their heads. Jim was so excited. His grandmother, Ora Mary Sims and Aunt Mary Ann called him all the way from Dallas to wish him a happy birthday and that was all he could tell them about. The cake and ice cream were served to Christi McManigal, Roxie Johnson, Michael Wilson, and Lloyd Rahlfs. The other Happy grandparents are Gracie and Frank Tirey.

GRACIE AND FRANK Tirey and Willa and Simon Elliott have been to New Orleans, Louisiana to the Mardi Gras. How long did it take to drive that at 55 MPH?

EVELYN SHIPMAN, CATHERINE Miller, Pauline Wesley and I traveled to Lockney on Monday evening, Feb. 18, to the Friendship night of their Eastern Star Chapter. Frances Cobb was also there with the Plainview group. Frances looks very well and is still working at the same job. Happy, Plainview, Lubbock, Floydada, Dimmitt and Canyon chapters were represented. Richard Gonzales, a graduate of Wayland and music director of the First Baptist Church in Lockney, entertained with a medley of songs. Richard accompanied himself on the piano. Some of the arrangements were his own. Virginia Taylor, an OES member from Lockney, presented a humorous reading and a poem on friendship.

LONNIE AND FAYE Byars and Cortez and Glenn Dowlen were at Lockney's Friendship night representing the Canyon OES chapter. The food and fellowship were delightful.

A MRS. WOODSON of Floydada visited with us who used to be a Mrs. Ralls when she lived at Arney years ago.

BOB ANN AND Jeffrey Whelchel were honored with a birthday party recently by Ruth and Alden Mann in their home. Bob Ann's cake was a heart (or valentine) and Jeffrey's was full of animals and all kinds of goodies to gladden the heart of a five-year-old. Ruth and Alden served dinner to Dora Ratjen, Bettye and Bob Whelchel and their Bob Ann, Gregg, and Jeffrey, June and Clyde Hancock and their Mary Lou and Phyllis and Dick Ratjen and Pam Tatum.

THE WOMAN'S STUDY Club of Happy included the students of Happy High in their Americanism Program on Tuesday, Feb. 19th. Joan McDonald, president, introduced the program, "Reverence to God, Respect for America, and the Responsibility of the Youth." Anna Mae McManigal presented the part, "Reverence to God." Willa Elliott gave the Pledge of Allegiance from the Red Skelton Hour, and the students said the Pledge of Allegiance and sang the Star Spangled Banner. Robert Lee delivered an address on our flag. The school program was closed with the singing of the Battle Hymn of the Republic.

THE WOMAN'S STUDY Club had the business session of their meeting in the home of Mrs. Frank Walters. Mrs. George Tirey served as co-hostess.

TOMMY AND ALICE Taylor are the parents of a baby girl, Utana Faye, born Sunday, February 24th just after 11:30 p.m. in Neblett Hospital in Canyon. She weighed six pounds and five ounces. Utana has one brother, Monty, three years old. Great-grandparent, Mrs. Stone Cope, was most pleased about this fourth generation.

LAVERNA JACKSON was hospitalized at Neblett Hospital on Monday.

TAYLOR AND SONS grocery is sponsoring beef education spots every Monday on Channel 10 television at 12:15. These feature beef information and even the cutting up of a beef carcass.

IF YOU WERE in the third grade in Happy on Monday, you didn't have anything to see, but you heard about our new kittens. We have six new baby kittens. . . in the pantry. We lost the last mother cat to "we never found out what" and then lost all the kittens. So in a moment of consolation, I said, "We'll raise the next litter in the house." We didn't even have another mother cat at the time. But our kangaroo has the memory of an elephant. (For you readers that don't know that joke, J.T. wanted a kangaroo before Angelique was born and told Dr. Robinson about it. Anna Bee told it and has never let it be forgotten). The cats are the most exciting news at our house this week, even more so than my new picture! Did you notice? Jim Sands made the picture for the news. He bought out Britain's Studio, you know, and is working diligently. I even got to meet the lovely Mrs. Sands. She is there helping him. Jim can do wonders with very little with which to work. This picture is a good example.

Beautification Planned In The Canyon

Kelly Forehand and Julie Whittington take leading roles in "No, No, Nanette," opening Friday at Canyon High School.

"No, No, Nanette" Opens Friday

The days of flappers, phonograph records and ukelele serenades will come alive Friday with the opening of the Canyon High School spring musical, "No, No, Nanette."

The Burt Shevelove adaptation of the "cat's pajamas of a musical" will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the CHS auditorium.

The production is the first to come out of a new CHS quarter class in musical production, a collaborative effort of the drama, art and music departments at the school.

Musical direction is by Tom Jennings, costume design and direction by Charlotte Brantley, and drama coaching under Karen Williamson. Well-known Panhandle dance master Neil Hess is choreographer for the musical.

One of the show's most winning features is expected to be its costumes. The "look" consisting of befringed, low-waisted frocks, cloche hats, beads, bangles and bobs has been designed by the art department for the musical. Mothers of individual performers made the costumes, so that each is different, Mrs. Brantley says.

"No, No, Nanette" originally opened in 1925, with Busby Berkeley handling the dance, Vincent Youmans the songs and Ruby Keeler the terpsichorean feats of soft shoe.

The 1970 Burt Shevelove version of the musical boasted a 78-year old Berkeley as choreographer and a 60-plus Ruby Keeler as its star. The Vincent Youmans score, consisting of such ditties as "Tea for Two" and "I Want to Be Happy" was the same as ever.

Leading the cast for the CHS production of "No, No, Nanette" are Diana Davis as the wacky maid, Julie Whittington as the ingenue Nanette; Karen Denton as Lucille, Kelly Forehand as Tom, Paul Hensley as Billy and Elaine Ramakers as Sue. Also, Carla Dwyer as Winnie, Mackie Williams as Betty, Judy Batenhorst as Flora and Tom Grimes as Jimmy.

Tickets for the musical are priced at $3 for reserved seats, $2.50 general admission and $2 for students. They are now available in the CHS office.

An open house for parents of all CHS students will be held from 7-8 p.m. in the main hall of the high school.

The theme for the open house will be "Know your Teachers, Know your Students, Know your School," a spokesman said. The teaching staff of the high school will be in attendance, and parents will receive brochures giving the educational background of faculty members. The event will give parents the opportunity to both meet the teachers and to tour the school facilities, a spokesman said. Members of the Future Teachers of America will be present at the open house to register attending parents.

The director's topic, "What's Up Doc?", will introduce new directions for college student personnel working in public school counseling.

THANK YOU, NELL Moore, or the neat touch at the gate although it may blow back tomorrow, it looks better today! While Jairel was working on the sign, Nell did some cleaning up of weeds blown in. By the way, take a few tools, put on your bonnets, hats and gloves and wander up after your mail. If there are people at the gate working, stop and give a hand. It has been rumored and there just might be, don't know yet for sure, but would be a pleasant surprise to have a lot of help if it should work out, on Saturday afternoon. If you would like to help on shrubs, trees, or beautification of this canyon, call a board member or me and I can give you the right phone numbers.

BY THE WAY, I have had several phone calls concerning the new phone books. I did not deliver any books but the people who delivered wanted to leave the extra books here. It seems the telephone company was only giving about one book per household and if you wanted extra books, you could pick them up.

MANY THANKS TO Lena and Lum Edwards who generously gave the church a refrigerator last week. This will help so much when there are socials and on behalf of the whole congregation many, many thanks.

THE PALISADES LADIES met at the church last Thursday for a Doug's Art presentation by Beverly Norman. They all enjoyed a sack lunch and Lola Jackson and Beverly Norman's lively digests concerning each other's diets. Lena Edwards and Beverly mixed the dough and separated a hand full to each one placed on foil to work out the art. These pieces of art consisted of fruit, vegetables, small pans of biscuits, flowers, worms, snails, turtles, birds and nests, squirrels and butterflies. They were glazed with milk, baked on the foil, painted and mounted on plaques. I've only seen one mounted and it was so cute. The flowers appeared to be carved of wood, mounted on a round plaque of wood, edged in a short fringe.

THOSE PRESENT WERE Reba and Becky Guess, Lena Edwards, Nell Moore, Marcella Carlile, Lola Jackson, and a guest, Belva Winters. While everyone was busy and talking got lively I flipped on a tape recorder which had been hidden in a sack behind the table. Belva

British Actor Featured Speaker At WT

"Make your money in America and spend it in England," was the advice a British actor gave to West Texas State University students attending a lecture here Tuesday.

Dr. Eric Salmon told his audience that government-subsidized theatre in England, far from producing mediocre fare catering to mass morosity, seems to be turning out outstanding productions that anyone can see for two bits. The American notion of charging "exorbitant prices" for theatre admission seems to be saying that "if you want to be amused, you've got to pay for it," he said.

Since wages and prices are much lower in England than America, Dr. Salmon suggested that one make one's money in America and spend it in England.

Subsidized theatre in England, he says, has "consistently eschewed commercial work."

Theatre education in England differs from American study in that it tends to emphasize academic training over practical experience, he said. Community theatre is active in Great Britain, but because professional productions are within reach of all, amateur performers stage shows "more because they just want to do it" than because the community lacks in theatre opportunities, he said.

was the only one who knew about it and we all had a good laugh as I played the tape. Reba Guess remarked she had noticed that I was pretty quiet, for a change. Although we had several out because of illness, we are looking forward to our all getting together to do some spring projects of improving the area.

ONE LITTLE TIDBIT of news concerning the Sweetheart Banquet that I found out at the club meeting was that Elizabeth and Paul Asley were crowned the sweethearts for 1974 and presented a Valentine box of candy from the young people. They are a very charming couple and was glad to hear of their crowning.

I UNDERSTAND THE next Palisades Board meeting is March 11 with Paul Fleming so get your suggestions to a board member or go to the meeting.

WE HAD A George Washington Party at our house last Friday night. You see, we had wanted to get together and the date happened to fall on George's birthday. We had thought we would do a lot of patriotic singing but our two piano players were unable to attend so we listened to records. We did gather in a circle and tell some interesting history about George Washington. Phyllis started with did we know George's first dentures were wooden. Probably the reason he looked so serious, someone added.

IT WAS BROUGHT OUT how wise and honest he was and many good admirable traits. From there the conversation went into our national situation today. We covered the step by step situations created up to the present; from the hippies, campus riots, God is dead posters, civil rights riots, plane hijacking, kidnapping, dope, alcohol, sex on T.V., cost of living, etc., etc. We ended up with Jane Sides reading a scripture out of Romans 13 concerning authority. We decided it is time for all Christians and red-blooded Americans to unite. We decided those who are creating the rackets are neither Americans nor Christians. We believe we should stand by Nixon in his hour of trouble as we would a member of our own household. (I should get some phone calls this week!)

NOT ALL OF our conversation was serious. Some of it was foolishness and fun. For example, we had each one recite some poem or something he had learned between first and sixth grades. Some of these were comical and some were more serious. The longest one remembered was a poem by Floyd Oliver concerning the "Builder of the Bridge." He could not recall the name or author and I have not looked it up but have heard it before. It was good. Elizabeth Rainwater read her poem as it was one she had found in a Biology book, The Science of Life, (by B. L. Taylor and from the Chicago Tribune.)

The Science of Life

Behold the mighty dinosaur Famous in prehistoric lore, Nor only for his weight and strength But for his intellectual length.

You will observe by these remains The creature had two sets of brains One in his head (the usual place) The other at his spinal base.

Thus he could reason a piore As well as a posterior No problem bothered him a bit; He made both head and tail of it.

So wise he was, so wise and solemn, Each thought just filled his spinal column If one brain found the pressure strong It passed a few ideas along.

If something slipped his forward mind, 'Twas rescued by the one behind. And if in error he was caught He had a saving after thought.

As he thought twice before he spoke, He had no judgment to revoke, For he could think without congestion Upon both sides of every question.

O gaze upon this modest beast, Defunct ten million years at least.

THOSE PRESENT WERE Jane and Cleo Sides, Cleve and Elizabeth Rainwater, Floyd and Peggy Oliver, Phyllis and Clyde Allard. Finger foods, homemade candy, cookies, carrot cake, buttered popcorn, punch and coffee. We all thought of poor George as we ate the buttered popcorn.

LATER WE SHOWED Elizabeth's paintings of pastels and oils. They are good. When I get rich, I will buy a dozen or so.

WE WERE SORRY about those who could not be here because of illness Margie and Ernest Carlile, Juanita and Hubert Abbott, Kenneth and Louise Houtchens, Lora Hawkins went to a funeral and Willie Huskey had to work. Everyone scampered off about 11:30 or 12.

Ramsey Muniz To Speak At WTSU

The La Raza Unida party gubernatorial candidate and its founder will be featured speakers at the third annual Chicano Awareness Week to be held at West Texas State University March 4 to 9.

El Chicano, an organization to create better understanding between Anglos and Chicanos, is sponsoring the week-long effort, Jesse Toscano, El Chicano president, said. It is to create an awareness of the culture and history of Mexican-American people and to encourage Chicano students to further their education, he noted.

Three speakers are scheduled to speak during the week: Ramsey Muniz, Corpus Christi attorney running for Texas governor on the La Raza Unida party ticket; Jose Angel Gutierrez of Crystal City, the party founder; and Jose Rael, member of the Amarillo School Board and insurance salesman.

A Baylor football star, Muniz worked his way up from picking cotton to a partnership in the Corpus Christi law firm of Huerta, Pena and Muniz. He will speak at 7:30 p.m. on March 9 in the Student Union Building dining hall.

La Raza Unida founder Gutierrez, whose growing party promotes Chicano unity, will speak at 8 p.m. on March 8 in room 202 of the WTSU Activities Center. La Raza Unida strength is mounting in many Texas counties — as well as in Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, and California — where there are Chicano majorities.

Amarillo School Board member Rael will speak at 8 p.m. on March 7 in room 202 of the WTSU Activities Center. His topic will be "The Importance of a Continuing Education."

Rael, a native of Conejos, Colo., has lived in Amarillo since 1958. A graduate of Stanford University, Calif., Rael has been president of United Way, the Animal Humane Society, and vice-president of the Mental Health-Mental Retardation

Voting Precincts Changed, Added

Randall County voters whose voting precincts were changed in a recent remapping of certain precincts recently should note the change in precinct number on their certificates.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, county tax assessor-collector, said anyone who lives in the affected areas but does not receive a notification that their precinct number has been changed should contact her office.

Notification of the changes in precinct numbers have been mailed by her office, she said.

Boundary lines of voting precincts 7 and 20 were changed by county commissioners recently and two new precincts, 22 and 23 were created.

Precinct 22 is largely in the Amarillo area.

Precinct 23 was created from a split of precinct 7. The western boundary of the new precinct is the Canyon expressway, beginning at McCormick Road and continuing south to 23rd Street in Canyon, then along 23rd Street until it intersects with 4th Avenue. The southern, eastern and northern boundaries of the precinct remain the same as the former precinct 7.

board. Other activities during the week include art and cultural displays Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 4 to 6, in the Activities Center and Student Union Building.

"Saturday, March 9, is the big day of the week," Toscano said. "We have invited all high school students to tour the campus and its facilities starting at 1 p.m. We want to emphasize college life, financial assistance available and the importance of Chicanos continuing their education."

"Our banquet, free to all high school students who register for orientation on Saturday, will start at 6:30 p.m. The cost will be $2 per person otherwise. Following the speech by Muniz, there will be a dance in the center's ballroom," he concluded.
